

Involved Machines and Connections

Data Flow Diagram

3/20/2019

Sebastian Wellig

Page 2

- The event handler for finished calculations may need a temporary storage for tasks that couldn't be sent to the database yet, in case the database server was offline, which will be retrieved once the database server is available again. Keep in mind of possible race conditions between the triggering of the retrieval and the event handler of finished calculations.

Data Flow

- 1) Create new entry in database to which the calculation is associated with

CMD User Interface
